Hi school counseling graduate student!

Welcome! I'm so glad you're here and curious about connecting and being encouraged! As you'll quickly see, I help school counseling students be as successful as possible while in graduate school and when transitioning into school counseling positions!

To support graduate school counseling students, I offer several free resources including:

- Access to the School Counseling Grad Student Support Group for encouragement and connection,
- The NEW Future School Counselor Academy Podcast with Dr. Ebersole,
- A free Dr. Ebersole Resume Template to download and utilize while editing your resume,
- Opportunities to connect on LinkedIn, DrEbersole.com, and Email.
- Recommendations for resources and products to be helpful while in graduate school!

In addition, I also have the following incredible opportunities to help graduate students stand out from other applicants when preparing, applying, and interviewing for school counseling positions:

- Enroll in "How to Land a School Counseling Position" to become encouraged, empowered, and educated during this 90-minute course with practical and effective recommendations for YOU to stand out from other applicants while transitioning from graduate student to school counselor! Once you purchase this course, you always have access to it!
- Request a Resume Review and allow me to carefully edit your resume and offer specific (yet gentle!) recommendations for you to significantly improve your resume so you can stand out from other applicants. Remember, the resume gets you the interview! If you're applying and not getting offers to interview, let's clean up your resume!
- Go one step further and request a Cover Letter Review and get ready for specific yet gentle recommendations to improve your cover letter so that it stands out to potential employers. The cover letter is often the first thing potential employers see when you submit your application materials!
- Schedule a virtual 1:1 Career Coaching Session and see how you will be encouraged and empowered to make immediate progress toward your goals! Sessions are highly effective, solution-focused, and individualized to you and your career goals. You WILL be empowered and feel motivated to get unstuck!! Clients always report immediate increases in motivation, clarity, and accountability. Sessions can be focused on setting and achieving future career goals, overcoming obstacles, preparing for the application/interview process, or any other topic that would be helpful!

Want to learn more? Start here to learn about how others have been positively impacted by my work and also be sure to read even more success stories! More than anything, I hope you will learn to trust that I am here to serve and support you by providing the services and encouragement I wish I had when I was in graduate school!

I wish YOU the absolute best and much success! ❤️
